City man contracts swine flu

BY LAURA HANNAM

laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

MILTON Keynes has had its first confirmed case of swine flu.

A man from the city, who recently returned from the USA, has tested positive for swine flu and is suffering from mild symptoms.

The man contacted his GP early last week and was given the Tamiflu antiviral drug and told to stay at home as a precaution before test results came back.

The positive results were released by the Health Protection Agency (HPA) on Friday.

Close contacts of the man were identified and the HPA offered them treatment and advice.

Yesterday (Tuesday) a spokesman for NHS Milton Keynes said the man was recovering well at home.

Dr Diane Gray, deputy director of public health for NHS Milton Keynes, said it was 'only a matter of time' until the outbreak came to Milton Keynes and it is now a 'waiting game' to see what happens next.

"It is inevitable that this has happened, it is why we had the plans in place which are being achieved so far.

"We are confident that the actions we have taken are sufficient to minimize the risk to the general public.

"The key message is still not to panic but to be aware of personal hygiene.

"We are encouraging vulnerable people in the community to have a flu buddy, who they can rely on to fetch things for them if they are ill.

"We are preparing for the worst and hoping for the best."

The UK total for swine flu has reached 184 with 47 cases notified yesterday.

Simple steps that everyone can take to help prevent catching colds and flu are always using a tissue to catch your sneezes, throwing away used tissues where germs can linger and regularly washing your hands. Remember Catch It, Bin It, Kill It.

If people are concerned because they have been to a known affected area where people to people spread of swine flu has occurred and are also developing influenza-like symptoms they should stay at home, telephone their GP or contact NHS Direct on 0845 46 47 or via the web at www.nhs.uk.

Conservative leader David Cameron was back in town yesterday, pledging to bring 'big change' to politics during a major policy speech at the Open University. He revealed his plan to give planning powers back to the people in Milton Keynes. Turn to page 2

Tory leader David Cameron works on his blog in the OU library – he wants to pass power down to local people

Give 'power to the people' says Tory

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

CONSERVATIVE leader David Cameron revealed his plans to overhaul the political system when he visited Milton Keynes yesterday.

Only two months ago he was in town with his roadshow, 'Cameron Direct', but his speech at the Open University yesterday was more 'Cameron Dissects'.

The Tory leader gave his own grim diagnosis of the political crisis sparked by the MPs' expenses scandal, from raging residents to 'Orwellian surveillance', before outlining his solution to deliver the most dramatic redistribution of power in living memory.

When asked how his plans would affect Milton Keynes, Cameron said that a Conservative government would axe housing targets and government quangos.

He said: "Get rid of the targets, get rid of the quango's, get rid of the regional spacial strategies, and pass the power down to local councils and local people.

"For villages and small towns around Milton Keynes, if people want to come together and say we don't want to have 100 houses dumped on us by some planning consent, we would like a 10 per cent expansion of the village, and this is where we want them to go, under our plans they would be allowed to do that.

"If you asked people do you need more homes they say yes, if you ask them do you trust the current planning system they say no.

"We're all about devolving power to the lowest level, which is the individual in the community."

Cameron said he would consider the introduction of fixed-term parliaments and pass power from the political elite to the man in the street.

He cited the OU as a good example of successful modernisation and admitted that he chose Milton Keynes partly because he hoped to win people over in a 'highly marginal constituency'.

His views were echoed by Mark Lancaster, MP for North East Milton Keynes, who said: "We have to re-engage local people.

"Here in Milton Keynes people don't like the fact that we have an unelected quango deciding our future – Milton Keynes Partnership.

"I've always called for that relationship to change, to devolve to local people and it's so fitting that David should come here to make that announcement because it affects Milton Keynes more than anyone."

Other proposals include reducing the House of Commons by 10 per cent and publishing the expenses of all public servants paid more than £150,000 a year online.

Dr Richard Heffernan, an OU lecturer in British politics, said: "The speech has been a great success in the sense that it was trailed by all the newspapers.

"Essentially it was a declaration of intent without necessarily telling us what it was that the Government will do in terms of the changes.

"It's a helpful way to successfully electioneer, by entering into an important debate."

Funding quest for 'Angel of MK'

A CENOTAPH to remember those who have fallen in service could receive £500,000 funding from the Cultural Olympics.

The International Olympic Committee will invest in leading local projects in Britain as part of a Cultural Olympiad until the games in 2012.

The Cenotaph Trust has applied for funding and planners hope that the new £1million meeting point will form the centre of Olympic celebrations in Milton Keynes, with the cenotaph set to be unveiled on 11/11/2011.

Project manager Gavin Anderson has also revealed plans to construct a 70ft wind turbine to power the cenotaph's lights.

"It's going to be the Angel of MK," Gavin said.

"I like the idea of it being seen from the motorway.

"It's not just for our fallen soldiers but for police, firemen and boy scouts – anyone who wants to use it as a place to mark their respect."

The city's first central memorial already has the support of the Territorial Army, Milton Keynes Council, Royal British Legion, the Parks Trust and English Partnerships.

Youth cautioned for YouTube 'race fight' video

A YOUTH who was arrested on suspicion of racially aggravated harassment in relation to a video placed on YouTube has been cautioned.

A spokesman for Thames Valley Police said the 16-year-old, who was arrested on Tuesday, April 28, answered police bail yesterday and was released with a caution.

The 41-second video clip showed two students, one white and one Asian, from Walton High school in Walnut Tree involved in a punch up on school playing fields.

The boy of Pakistani origin involved in the fight was labelled on the video as a 'p'.

The video was placed on YouTube rated as 'comedy' on Thursday, April 2 and 112 people watched it before it was removed on Tuesday, April 28.

Children at risk on unadopted roads

No zig-zag lines outside school with 440 pupils

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE

Danger to children: Resident Julian Thomas on the unadopted, unmarked road outside Christ The Sower Ecumenical School on Grange Farm

SCHOOLCHILDREN'S safety is under threat because of the city's backlog of unadopted roads claim residents

Christ The Sower Ecumenical School opened in Singleton Drive, Grange Farm in January 2005, but the council has yet to paint road markings there because it is still considered private.

The headteacher has reported a number of accidents around the school and residents, such as Julian Thomas who has lived nearby for five years, are outraged.

"They are developing new estates before they have finished the previous ones," Mr Thomas said.

"Without road markings, parking outside the school is horrendous, with kids dodging between cars. I have watched this estate grind to a halt because roads are not being finished and are not adopted. It is unacceptable."

Back in February, MK NEWS revealed that thousands of residents are living without street signs, road sweeping, tarmac and white lines. On estates across the city, potholes and street lights are not mended where roads - sometimes up to a decade old - await adoption.

Headteacher Anne Hamilton said two recent car accidents mean that zigzag lines, painted outside most schools, are desperately needed.

"When the school first opened we were very small, with 40 children. Now with 440 there is a significant increase in traffic. Every school seems have its headache, and this is ours. And it all comes back to this problem with adoption."

Ward councillor Cllr Ruth Jury added: "This is a safety issue. The road markings outside schools are crucial - in fact, the council has repainted ones in Two Mile Ash. In Grange Farm they have been waiting for four years, and we will endeavour to sort it out as soon as possible."

Development body Milton Keynes Partnership (MKP) said the works 'should be completed as a matter of urgency'.

A spokesman for MKP said: "We recognise that unadopted roads are an important issue for residents and we are trying to resolve this matter as soon as possible.

"Our policy has been to undertake the adoption works once all of the development has been completed in the grid square. In the light of the current economic climate we are currently reassessing this approach as development time-scales have been adversely affected."

Drunk crash driver had baby in back of her car

A 34-YEAR-OLD woman is facing jail after police found her crashed in a ditch, five times over the drink drive limit, with a baby in the back seat of the car.

Fiona Galvin, of Carroll Close, Newport Pagnell, pleaded guilty to drink driving and possessing cannabis at Milton Keynes Magistrates' Court on Thursday.

A police officer spotted her Vauxhall Vectra in a ditch off Hanslope Road, near Haversham, on May 6.

Prosecutor Tristan Driscoll said: "There was a lady sitting behind the wheel with the engine running.

"Three children were standing in the ditch next to the car and there was a baby in a seat in the rear of the vehicle."

Two other drivers who had pulled over to help Mrs Galvin told PC Smith that she had been shouting and acting in a strange manner. Her speech was slurred and a breath test reading showed 170mg of alcohol in 100ml of breath, five times the legal driving limit.

She was arrested and handcuffed after refusing to get into the police car. Before she was taken away, a social worker from Milton Keynes Council arrived and told PC Smith she was on her way to meet Mrs Galvin to discuss on-going child welfare issues.

At Milton Keynes Police Station, officers searched her clothes and found a small quantity of cannabis wrapped in paper.

District Judge English said: "I am due to retire next week and I don't think I have ever encountered a higher reading (of alcohol) than you gave. In view of the high reading and the aggravating factors, it's difficult to imagine this court deciding anything else other than a sentence of imprisonment."

The case was adjourned until June while a pre-sentence report is prepared.

One teeny weeny house is enough for some

SIR – In reply to the statement made by Dr Phyllis Starkey 'I cant live in a teeny weeny house'.

Firstly most people would be happy with one house let alone two.

You would then think she would have a better understanding of the plight of many of her constituents living in overcrowded conditions which Milton Keynes council is not recognising and not rehousing to any degree.

Dr Phyllis Starkey's government has also done little to increase the availability of council housing.

As regards Dr Phyllis Starkey's expenses, I don't think it's right she can claim travel expenses for her husband – a claim which is posted on her website.

It's costing the tax payer almost £200,000 per MP, what are we getting for it?

Eamonn Bobey
The Hide, Netherfield

■ SIR – I find the comment of Phylis Starkey in this weeks MK NEWS rather unfortunate 'I can't live in a teeny, weeny house'!

Some of us have to, but my husband and I find it perfectly adequate.

At least our house is paid for and we are not asking for help with expenses.

Name and address supplied

■ SIR – I think it's amazing how these people think that their actions as regards expenses are right. They are not in the real world.

Dr Starkey thinks it right because hubby needs room when coming to stay in London with her, is he a member of Parliament?

These people should stay in a low priced accommodation when in London.

Lancaster should forfeit all his profits from changing properties.

It really beggars belief how these people who we are supposed to look up to can stand there after they have taken their perks then state that the system stinks and it should be changed.

If they really think the system stinks, give back some money or step down and let's start again.

William Hawkes
Sent by e-mail

SIR – When our two MPs applied to be candidates for Parliament they knew that the job was in London.

They are nothing special, but paid workers.

If they went to either Bletchley or MK Central rail stations in the morning, they would see lots of other workers boarding trains to London where they work.

We are told that there is a very good and fast service to and from London so why can our MPs not commute like other workers?

Then second homes would not be needed so saving us taxpayers a lot of cash.

Gilbert D Lock
St Dunstans, Coffee Hall

Arrogance and ego and unsold affordable homes

SIR – I was appalled at the hypocrisy displayed by Phyllis Starkey in her comments to your reporter 'I can't live in a teeny weeny house'.

What on earth does she think many of the voters who put her in her cushy, two-home existence live in?

Thanks to the double standards of this current government the 'affordable homes' which they keep on about are so poor that even the housing associations will not take on the unsold ones.

Mrs Starkey should get real. When she is getting a second home paid for by us, the voters, she should not have the impertinence to suggest that what is good enough for her constituents is not good enough for her.

This is the sort of arrogance which we have all come to despise and shows that her purpose in being in Westminster is simply for her own ego and not for the people she represents.

The sooner there is a general election and the electorate have an opportunity to kick out the likes of her the better.

Then she may find she has to live in a 'teeny weeny house', although I very much doubt that she would lower herself to the general level of her ex-supporters – or perhaps I should say 'raise herself up to their level' as there can't be many who would sink to her level.

David Kirkbright
Lakes Lane, Newport Pagnell

History lesson

SIR – I have just received a BNP election leaflet through the door which states that the new Battle for Britain is to put British people first.

I am struck by their patriotism and grasp of British history.

I particularly admired that great defender of our isles the Spitfire shown in the leaflet.

The 'RF' squadron marking was that of 303 Polish squadron.

Below the pilot's cockpit is the round squadron emblem of the Kosciuszko squadron, top scorers in the actual Battle of Britain; their highest-scoring ace was a Czech, but an honorary Pole.

At the front of the aircraft one can see the chequerboard pattern of the Polish Airforce, at that time in exile and fighting on our side for British and Polish freedom.

The Spitfire would have been flying with American-made instruments, American-supplied 100 octane fuel and have been made on machine tools some of which were of German manufacture.

Aside from the Polish and Czech pilots, there was a separate American Eagle squadron, Belgians, Free French (the latter group from what is now the EEC) and the British Empire (now Commonwealth).

And, by the way, the 'builders' on the back of the leaflet are all Americans, taken from stock footage from a photo agency.

Well done chaps! It was a good job we didn't need all those foreigners in the Second World War to help us out.

Seven out of eight German soldiers who lost their lives in that war were killed by the Russians – they should have let us do the job ourselves.

Mike Saunders
Aylesbury Street West, Wolverton

Tommy's dad in France

SIR – Having followed your coverage of the Battle of Fromelles with interest, I was pleased to see that descendants of Private Richard Guntrip have been located and, hopefully, more relatives of the missing will now also be found.

As regards Private Guntrip, the story is somewhat more poignant, since at the time that he was killed his father was also in France.

With his home being in School Street, Stantonbury, he was aged just 18, and had been employed at Wolverton Works before joining up.

John Taylor, local historian

Road crossing safety

SIR – I read with interest the objections to the bus service running through Oxley Park, especially the ones about people having to walk children to school along the route.

Don't these parents consider teaching their children how to cross roads without risk?

After all, they may not live in Milton Keynes forever, and most other cities have roads to cross – overground!

Milton Keynes needs a better transport system so we don't end up with the same traffic problems as London, which is a far worse situation than a small bus running through an estate every 20 minutes!

Mandy Spinks
Sent by e-mail

Bus driver safety

■ SIR – I like the way that we bus drivers are all being attacked for just doing our job.

We didn't just decide one day, hmm let's drive through Oxley Park now because that will really annoy the residents.

No, we get told what routes to drive. Yes, some of our drivers are bad, arrogant, drive too fast, etc but we're not all like that.

As for the so-called baseball bat incident. How would the people that apprently did that like it if somebody came to their place of work and started waving a baseball bat in front of them? I'm sure that they would feel intimidated.

As a driver I would rather not go through the estate as the roads are just about big enough for a car let alone a bus.

Until the day the service gets pulled from Oxley Park I say 'please try and park considerately' and then hopefully there will be no problems.

Bobby

High Street shopping

SIR – After reading the letters last week regarding Tesco in Newport Pagnell there are just a few things I would like to add.

Firstly, F Hill says Tesco only brings charity shops to the town. Newport Pagnell already has five.

You cannot get everything you need from the High Street at some point you need to shop elsewhere.

For those people who do not want Tesco, then do not use it, carry on shopping in the High Street.

Theresa Edwards
Newport Pagnell

Downhill excitement

SIR – Well done Snozone! and SIA. Looks like a winner.

I've never skied before but I might just give it a go! I've seen the wheelchair skiers on the telly and they don't half fly, brilliant. I'll be there on the 13th.

John Wilkins

■ SIR – What a fantastic event! The exhilaration of skiing for somebody like me who is usually restricted to travelling at a few mph in a wheelchair is a chance not to be missed.

Ru Earl

■ SIR – I think this sounds an event for the non skier as well. Hope lots of people come along and join in. Looking forward to hearing how it goes.

Sue Line and Chris Titley

Make a Difference has been given £500,000 to improve the facilities at CMK bus station

Half-a-million in cash for kids

AN area for young people in the city centre will be rebuilt by volunteers after a £500,000 cash injection.

The Buszy project will create opportunities for over 900 volunteers aged 16 to 25, offering them the chance to bring the former bus station opposite Central Milton Keynes train station back to life.

Yesterday Make a Difference (MaD) announced that it has secured half-a-million pounds funding from V, the youth volunteering charity, and SITA Trust, a recycling company.

MaD will encourage youngsters to design and run activities including music, art, sport, catering and youth work.

Development manager, Anna Peters, said: "We are ecstatic to have secured this funding to revamp the Buszy.

"We have been looking for a building where we can create and host activities for young people based around their passions and interests.

"There is no housing around so we can run activities in the evenings without worrying about making too much noise, there is already the skate park where we will be holding a regular skate school taught by young volunteers, and being in central Milton Keynes near the railway station means it should be accessible to all."

Planners have called on the original architect, Robert De Grey, to help renovate the area, which is owned by Milton Keynes Partnership.

The first phase will be opened to the public in September.

■ For more information about voluntary roles for young people visit www.mad-uk.org

Leader's vision

Cllr Sam Crooks spoke to reporter JESSICA CUNNIFFE about the challenges facing him as new leader of Milton Keynes Council

SAM Crooks remembers the day he came to Milton Keynes: June 22, 1970. Born and brought up in Ireland, he moved here for his first job – making the tea at the then-new Open University.

Nearly 39 years later he is new to another job: leading the city's council.

"Everyone outside used to laugh at Milton Keynes. My parents looked at me and said 'you're going to Milton Keynes?!' They wondered what kind of disease I had. The great thing was that for the people who lived in Milton Keynes, this was heaven on earth."

While MK may be heavenly, it has been a hellish year for its council, currently ranked in the bottom three per cent of local authorities by the Audit Commission.

But the software company owner was seen as a solution to an authority beset by political bickering, being allowed a clear run at the leadership by opposition parties last week.

"I do think there's a process of healing that the council has to go through as well as setting our house in order.

"I'm daunted by the size of the challenge, but the thing I can say with absolute confidence is that I believe the city can respond to the problems.

"I'm just a figurehead. I want to give expression to what I believe are the strengths of this city. I think we've got such a rich community in terms of the people in it, whether male, female, black, white, brown – it's that vibrancy and creativity that we'll be able to build on. The main thing I want to do at the outset is to raise the city's sights again. I think the combination of things that happened to the council over the last couple of years means we're a bit down in the dumps."

Though elected leader for one year, he has a longer-term plan: to make a new Master Plan. He would 'like to have another go' at the document produced at the city's inception, forecasting future jobs, housing, industry, transport and education for up to 2030 or 2040.

Further down the to-do list is cementing the city's city status, building its cenotaph, reviewing boundaries with neighbouring authorities and stopping this becoming a 'two speed city'.

"There are some really great estates that have been built and they're forging ahead. But two things I think are happening. First of all, some estates that are being built have got problems, and secondly some of the older parts of the city haven't had the investment that the newer parts have. "

But he acknowledges that, ultimately,the council's function boils down to supplying services: "As long as people's bins are emptied, as long as they're quite satisfied with their schools, as long as their elderly parents are in good care, they're happy."

'I can say with absolute confidence that I believe the city can respond to the problems': leader of MK Council Sam Crooks

'No' to more cash for Bletchley Park Trust

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

THE director of Bletchley Park has spoken of his disappointment after an appeal for further funding was turned down by the Government.

Last Wednesday Labour peer Baroness McIntosh raised a petition in the House of Lords asking the Government what support it could offer for the restoration of the home of the Second World War codebreakers.

But her plea was rejected by Lord Davies of Oldham, the Deputy Chief Whip of the House of Lords.

CEO of Bletchley Park Trust, Simon Greenish said: "Given the significant impact of Bletchley Park's wartime work on the outcome of the Second World War and the way we all live today, I am disappointed at the negative Government response to Baroness McIntosh's appeal."

Lord Davies said: "Both English Heritage and the Housing Communities Agency have provided advice and funding for the development of the Bletchley Park site.

"In 2008 English Heritage provided a grant of £330,000 towards buildings conservation repairs and has offered to provide a further £300,000 for the area.

"The Bletchley Park Trust itself receives no external support but there is substantial support for the architectural and historical infrastructure."

Speaking on Thursday, Mr Greenish said: "The Bletchley Park Trust has indeed received significant investment into the infrastructure of the site for the enormous backlog of critical repairs and for this we are grateful to both English Heritage and Milton Keynes Council.

"However, until these building works are completed over the next three years, it is the day-to-day operational costs associated with running this ageing and dilapidated site that the trust battles to meet."

Disappointed: Simon Greenish

Driver dumped five matresses in lane

A MAN was found guilty of fly tipping after being seen at a regular dumping spot last summer.

Twenty-five-year-old Calum Blythe, of Woolmans, Fullers Slade denied the charges at Milton Keynes Magistrates Court on Tuesday, May 19.

The court heard that on June 11, 2008 Blythe had borrowed his girlfriend's Ford Focus while she was at work.

A witness saw this vehicle fully laden heading up a dead end road in Calverton – an area that had been the scene of illegal waste dumping on several occasions prior to this date.

Five minutes later the vehicle left the road, empty, and five mattresses were found dumped in a gateway further up the lane.

The matter was reported to Milton Keynes Council and investigated by officers of the Safer Communities Unit.

Blythe was fined £265 and ordered to pay £1,000 legal costs.

He was also ordered to pay Milton Keynes Council £50 to cover the cost of clearing the waste.

130 candidates in fight for EU parliament seats

MORE than 130 candidates are lined up to fight for the ten South East region seats in the European Parliament.

As well as the big three political parties – the Conservatives, Labour and the Liberal Democrats – 12 other groupings are involved in the contest.

Currently the region has four Conservative MEPs, two Liberal Democrat, one United Kingdom Independence Party, one Labour, one Green and one independent.

Of those, all are standing for re-election except Liberal Democrat Baroness Nicholson of Winterbourne and independent Ashley Mote.

Unlike in the council elections, which use a first-past-the-post system, the Euro elections involve proportional representation, where seats are allocated to parties or individuals according to their share of the vote.

Each party submits a list of up to seven candidates, listing them in order of priority, with candidate number one the first choice to take a seat should the party win one, number two the second choice and so on.

On polling day, Thursday, June 4, people will vote for the party of their choice, not an individual candidate. Polling stations will be open from 7am to 10pm. The count will take place on Sunday evening, June 7, and the result should be available at around 10pm.

■ For a full list of parties and candidates log on to www.mk-news.co.uk and click on the Euro election link.

Royal Train Shed homes on show

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

AN innovative housing development in the historical Royal Train Shed building in Wolverton has been officially opened.

The Grade 2 listed building, built in 1838 by the London and Birmingham Railway Company, now houses an original indoor street setting made to look like a Victorian terrace.

It is part of the canal-side Wolverton Park development, a multi million pound regeneration project that has come to life since MK NEWS last visited in October.

The show homes now open in the train shed and the canal mews structures feature luxurious interiors and clever design.

Each of the 31 houses in the train shed, which used to house the Royal Train, feature an open-plan ground floor flooded with light from one of the building's beautiful church-like windows.

Above your head in the towering entrance foyer is the original gantry crane used to move the Royal Train.

Announcing the official opening of the building on Tuesday evening (May 19), mayor of Milton Keynes, Cllr Euan Henderson, congratulated developer Places for People on the 'stunning transformation'.

The 31 houses in the train shed feature an open-plan ground floor flooded with light from one of the building's church-like windows

"The buildings, for modern day living and working, have preserved the history and memory of their former use and the result is outstanding." he said.

The development includes two further Grade 2 listed industrial buildings; the Triangular Building where locomotives and carriages were built and the Reading Room, formerly a library for employees, which will soon be brought back to life as a bar and restaurant.

The first residents will be moving into their new homes in Wolverton Park in July.

■ The show homes in the Royal Train Shed and canal mews are now open for viewing. Telephone Knight Frank on 01908 319 748 for an appointment.

Entertainment on the street

STREET entertainers are set to do battle.

The best street entertainers from across the country will perform in the competition, street@thehub, showcasing the crowd with their talents.

The competition will take place in the outdoor piazza at The Hub on the last Saturday of the summer months kicking off this Saturday, 11am-3pm with the Finale on Saturday, September 26.

Titan the Robot, the 9ft tall robot (pictured) will be making a grand appearance to officially launch the competition which will be compared by hugely popular street entertainer, Tim Bat. Members of the public will be invited to vote for their favourite street entertainer at each round, with the winner from each of the monthly heats going forward to the grand finale.

If you are a street entertainer and would like the chance to win £1000, visit www.thehub-miltonkeynes.com for your application form.

Restaurants at The Hub will also be holding a unique food market in the Piazza and there will be plenty of extra activities laid on for the kids including giant jenga, Connect 4, tin can alley and much more.

City on the cycling map

THE city put itself firmly on the cycling map after successfully hosting the first stage of the spectacular Tour Series.

Uniquely the series focused on the teams rather than individual riders, with ten top British teams battling it out to be crowned the number one team.

The city provided a perfect 1.33km long L-shaped course for the big crowds crowds of spectators last Thursday.

The day of the Tour Series event begun with support events organised by Milton Keynes Council (MKC) and included a number of races for local communities, MKC and its partners, followed by British Cycling Go-Ride activities involving more than 80 children from local and regional schools in their junior races.

The new city centre redway was also officially opened by the mayor Euan Henderson.

With just a few minutes to go before the start of the main race, 7-9 year-old-mascots, selected through the council's mascots competition, were lined up

The best rider of the first ever Tour Series opening race is Graham Briggs (CANDI TV), with Simon Gaywood from Milton Keynes based Team Corley Cycles being third.

The team winner of the Milton Keynes race is CandiTV with local Team Corley Cycles taking eighth place.

Ceri Griffin, Cycling and Walking Officer for Milton Keynes Council, said: "It was a fantastic start for Tour Series. Our support races were attended by many volunteers, followed by hundreds of spectators enjoying the thrills and spills of the impressive feature race. We are looking forward to the rest of the races and wish the best of luck to our local team Corley Cycles."

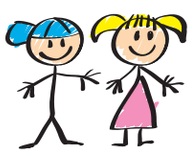
after

I couldn't blame the pregnancy (I would love to!) but due to my diet of quick sugar fixes, and comfort eating my weight had crept up. At this happy time, I felt depressed; I was the biggest I had ever been. I tried dieting for a few months and thought about going back to diet clubs that I had tried in the past. They hadn't worked then, why would they work now? I was still in my maternity clothes, and couldn't face buying the correct size for my shape I hated the sight of myself.

My husband found the advertisement for SureSlim and convinced me to give them a call. At my first consultation, I weighed 12.5 stone and was Size 16, but after chatting with the SureSlim consultant, I felt motivated and raring to go. An eating plan was put together, personalised just for me. With the support from my family, friends and SureSlim consultant, the weight just kept falling off, I have never felt so good - I felt alive!

Heart palpitations that I'd suffered from regularly over the past 18 years were now history; it just proved to me that they had been a result of my high sugar diet over the years. I haven't even had a flutter since I started SureSlim 6 months ago!



I am a happier person to live with, my family love the new me. Having reached my goal, losing a total of 39.5lbs and 23 inches, I am now on the Lifestyle plan. It's not a diet, but a lifestyle change; giving me the figure I have dreamed of for years!

SureSlim changed my life around in such a short space of time; it gave me back my confidence and my femininity that had been buried for so many years!

Rogue trader blitz

48 vans stopped and checked

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

FORTY-EIGHT vans were stopped and checked in a crackdown on rogue traders.

Thames Valley Police and Milton Keynes Council carried out a joint operation seeking and apprehending possible rogue traders across the city.

Seven police officers, six community wardens and 11 trading standards officers were out approaching traders working on people's homes or travelling into the area.

The day of action, called Operation Rogue Trader, aimed to deliver the message that only good and honest businessmen are welcome in Milton Keynes.

A check point was set up near junction 14 of the M1 where police stopped van drivers and inspected their vehicles.

Twenty-one drivers were not aware of new legislation introduced in October that demands that all traders give customers a one-week cancellation notice before they start work. They were given advice by trading standards officers.

A dangerous tile cutter was also seized by environmental health officers.

Seven houses were visited by roaming teams who gave advice to traders spotted working on the properties.

Deborah Charles, senior trading standards officer, said: "We know that rogue traders travel the length and breadth of the country. They may work an area and move on leaving people who have possibly paid a lot of money and got poor work done.

"Just taking the details of the vehicles and the people travelling in them feeds into a national database and it might be a missing piece of information for somebody else's investigation."

■ If you are cold called by anyone offering to sell you goods, or do work to your property, please report them to trading standards on 08454 04 05 06.

MKNEWS BRIEFS

Inquest into baby's death

AN inquest has been opened into the death of a new born baby at Milton Keynes Hospital.

Ebony McCall died half-an-hour after she was delivered by Caesarean section in the early hours of Saturday, May 9.

Her 17-year-old mother Amanda, from Beckton Rise, Monkston Park, was at the end of the pregnancy when she was admitted to hospital with stomach pain on Friday, May 8.

The inquest heard she suffered from health problems including curvature of the spine and this was her first child.

Tests showed she was not in labour at 11.30pm but the baby's heart beat was abnormal.

Ebony was delivered by caesarean section at 3.21am. She deteriorated and died at 3.54am.

The case was adjourned until December to await the results of a postmortem.

Facelift library reopens

A NEW chapter is to start in the life of Olney Library as it reopens after a major facelift.

The facility in the Olney Centre on the High Street will reopen its doors after being adapted to cope with the increasing demand from a growing population.

A former workroom has been converted to offer more space for books, a computer area and extra seating.

Council cash for CAB

A SERVICE to help people hit by the economic crisis has been awarded money from Milton Keynes Council.

The Citizens Advice Bureau (CAB) has been presented £177,000 by the council to help deal with the increase in demand on its services due to the recession.

In the first six months of 2008/2009 the Milton Keynes CAB has seen a 20 per cent increase in the number of people needing help on a variety of issues including financial and legal matters.

The funding will help increase the amount of appointments available and the number of trained advisors and, create more interview and office space with updated telephone and computing services.

Kids clean up

CHILDREN have been cleaning up their neighbourhood with the help of local police.

The Junior Police Community Support Officer club was formed last month to provide activities for children aged eight to twelve-years-old in Woughton.

The youngsters have started their good work by cleaning up litter around New Chapter School in Coffee Hall.

The group also learnt how to save a life with first aid training given by St John Ambulance.

Group founder, PCSO Gary Ellmer, said: "We all got involved, cleared the area of rubbish and helped to make the area a much nicer place to live or visit."

The work of the Knit Hitters, one of the groups which is taking part in the Milton Keynes Fringe Festival

Wonder of woollies

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

THE city centre is bracing itself for the urban art terrorists.

Organisers are busy planning the launch of Milton Keynes Fringe Festival for September 21 but before that artists will be unleashing some unique exhibits on Central Milton Keynes.

Industry monthly, Artists Newsletter, has labelled those involved in the public art festival as 'urban art terrorists' because the plans show unorthodox artwork springing up in some strange locations.

One group, the Knit Hitters, will dress various city monuments and statues with knitted items.

Elsewhere, artist Andy Harper will be painting and projecting his organic oil images onto the walls, and a 'large installation' is planned for Middleton Hall.

The festival will comprise a series of international public art commissions in thecentre:mk and Midsummer Place, Milton Keynes schools arts and poetry prizes and celebr8, a diversity parade which will take place on World Peace Day.

The thecentre:mk annual painting prize has already attracted a worldwide audience, with applicants from as far as South Korea set to compete for £8,000.

Creative director, Sally Annett said: "Our aim is to provide a core sequence of 'arts' events for Milton Keynes, around which artists, performers and organisations can programme their own projects generating a large scale national festival for our city.

"Anyone is able to join this momentous celebration in some shape or form."

Leon School pupils urged to 'Think Equal'

PUPILS at Leon School are being taught to 'think equal'.

The Holocaust Educational Trust (HET), which says it responds to 'rising racial tension in specific urban areas', has chosen the Milton Keynes secondary school as its first place to launch a new project.

Last week, pupils aged 13 and 14 explored the dangers of prejudice, racism and intolerance, even hearing testimony from a Holocaust survivor, over two days.

The Think Equal programme also addressed issues such as the rise in the popularity of far-right politics, confusion over personal identity and what it means to be British.

It takes approximately one academic year to deliver the scheme in a single school, and the HET hopes Leon will be the first of hundreds.

Headteacher Simon Viccars said Leon wrote to the HET in February.

"We are concerned about aspects of political extremism and wanted to re-enforce what some of us consider the most important citizenship lesson of all – thinking equal. Our whole Year 9 were involved, being invited to consider the links between various historical atrocities and genocides and the emotions that encourage anybody to be labelled as different in our own society."

THE city of firsts is to hold the UK's first ever ski-a-thon.

The event, supported by MK NEWS, is to be held on the slopes of the SNO!zone in Xscape, Central Milton Keynes. It will see skiers and snowboarders rubbing shoulders with the sports stars of the future as the British Paralympics Development Squad is taking part.

The 12-hour endurance challenge, on Saturday, June 13, will raise money for the Spinal Injuries Association (SIA), a national charity based in Milton Keynes, which is celebrating its 35th birthday.

Sonic the Hedgehog will open the event by leading the skiers and snowboarders in the first leg down the indoor slope.

Up to 45 teams of two to six people aged over 10 can take part. One team member has to be on the slope at all times and teams are given the opportunity to switch skiers at hourly intervals.

SIA is keen to encourage disabled skiers to join in.

Gwen Pearson, head of fundraising for SIA said: "Adaptive SnowSports MK will provide rides for the general public on their mono-skiing equipment, which is modified for disabled skiers. We want to spread the word among the able-bodied and those confined to wheelchairs that life does not have to stop if you become paralysed. This gives everyone the opportunity to experience the same thrill of hurtling down a slope, regardless of ability."

For spectators there will also be Nintendo Wii competitions, fashion shows, a shop window treasure hunt, taster sessions from the Love Your Body group and live musical performances.

Steven Gordon-Wilson, marketing and promotions manager for Xscape added: "It promises to be one of the most fun-packed fundraising 12 hours for spectators and skiers, to help us all make history with Britain's first ski-a-thon."

The ski-a-thon team leader that raises the most sponsorship money by July 13 will win a week's stay for two (double bedroom) in a bed and breakfast in January at Haus Kienreich ski resort in Austria.

Every team leader will also be entered into a prize draw for a place on SIA's Reach for the Peaks Ski Challenge, held in Austria on February 4 to 7, 2010. This is a ski hard and play hard long weekend involving skiing or boarding down 35 peaks, in 48 hours.

24-hour kart race gets go-ahead

A 24-HOUR karting event is to be held annually at Daytona's race track.

The circuit has been granted permission from Milton Keynes Council to use the track outside of its restricted opening hours to hold the Daytona DMax 24 Hour Race in September, with up to 40 teams from all over the UK and Europe competing.

After securing consent from the council's development control committee on Thursday, Daytona can now apply to the council to operate the site outside of its restricted hours of 9am and 10pm on specific occasions.

Councillors voted unanimously in favour of the race despite objections from Loughton Parish Council, which said the noise from the track can be heard from Great Holm during the day and would be heard more clearly at night.

Daytona claims its karts have been engineered to keep noise to a minimum.

Lee Jackson, general manager said: "We are thrilled to have been given unanimous approval by Milton Keynes Council for our exciting 24 hour race. Following the sell-out success of the 24 Hour Race on the Race of Champions Circuit inside Wembley Stadium last year, we are confident of a full grid for this year's, larger event."

Awards for community cops

A POLICE sergeant and a PCSO have been named among the community officers of the year.

The winners of this year's Community Policing Awards in Thames Valley were announced yesterday following 281 nominations from members of the public, partner organisations and colleagues.

Sergeant Lee Brace, based at Furzton and Shenley Lodge, was awarded the Milton Keynes community police officer of the year for taking a 'strong lead role' in his area.

Maria Toniolo has been named Police Community Support Officer of the year in Milton Keynes for initiatives she has launched to help tackle the neighbourhood priorities.

Chief Superintendent Alan Baldwin said: "Both Lee and Maria should feel very proud of their achievements and the excellent relationships they have built with the people in their neighbourhood. All our community officers and PCSOs work very hard to make a difference in their neighbourhood, enthusiastically tackling their local neighbourhood priorities and it's great when this work is recognised."

Fire service's custom car has crash test dummies

THE fire service's latest vehicle may look like a typical hatchback but it could save someone's life by raising awareness of the possible results of unsafe driving.

Crash 1 started its life as a normal Nissan Micra but has now been turned into a road traffic collision demonstration car.

Buckinghamshire Fire and Rescue Service will use it at fetes, open days and road safety displays to promote road safety and showcase the skills and equipment firefighters use when releasing people involved in collisions.

Last year in Milton Keynes and the rest of the Buckinghamshire firefighters released around 300 people who had become trapped in their vehicles following road traffic collisions.

Keith Wheeler, Buckinghamshire Fire and Rescue Service's road safety manager, said: "For many years we have used scrap cars when we give these demonstrations. Audiences love to see the powerful cutting equipment slicing through the metal of a car to remove its roof, but there is a danger that this part of the demonstration overshadows the real reason for removing a roof - namely, to release the person or people trapped in the vehicle.

"While there is still a place for the traditional demonstration, this enables us to give informative demonstrations in a number of venues where it is not practicable to work with a real car.

"The car has no glass, no mechanical parts and no fuel tank so it can be used at indoor displays. It has a detachable roof and even comes with its own 'casualties', although volunteers are always welcome."

Jalori Fine Indian Cuisine

Award winning and voted in the top 100 Indian restaurants in the UK.
The Jalori is situated in the village of Woburn Sands close to Milton Keynes.

A place where old meets new, Jalori has a contemporary setting and offers all the comforts of a modern restaurant. Milton Keynes Council awarded the Jalori top scores, 5 star* on food hygiene.

Its smart frontage advertises Classical Indian Cuisine and the menu certainly lives up to it if the opinions of local customers are anything to go by.

The staff are friendly & helpful from the moment you enter the door & are more than happy to help & advise on any dietary requirements.

A small private dining area available for any occasion.

Jalori has been awarded an 'Excellent 5 Star' Food Hygiene Rating Certificate by Milton Keynes Council.

Anonymous artist wins colouring comp

THIS colourful Triceratops has been unveiled with a brand new coat.

Over 200 children entered a contest to redesign the Peartree Bridge dinosaur's paint job.

The Jurassic Colouring Competition was organised by Woughton Parish Council, city arts charity Inter-Action MK and the Milton Keynes Council of Voluntary Organisations (MKCVO).

The entries were displayed in a community exhibition where people voted for their favourite. The winning design, which was submitted anonymously, was painted onto the dinosaur last week.

The concrete sculpture, created in 1979 by the late artist Bill Billings MBE, was unveiled in its new colours on Monday.

The artist, who died aged 69 from a heart attack on Boxing Day 2007, started making sculptures for children at Netherfield in 1974 and in 2000 he received an MBE for his work as an inspiring community artist.

During its construction Bill slept in the dinosaur's stomach to stop any unwanted attention from curious youngsters.

Bletchley Park venue for Antiques Roadshow

THE Antiques Roadshow is coming to Bletchley Park.

The BBC One Sunday show will be filming at the park on July 12.

Some of Britain's leading antiques and fine arts specialists will be on hand to offer free advice and valuations to visitors, who are invited to raid their attics and bring along their family heirlooms, household treasures and car boot bargains for inspection by the experts.

People with large pieces of furniture or other big items can send details and photographs of their objects to: Antiques Roadshow, BBC, Whiteladies Road, Bristol BS8 2LR, or e-mail them to: antiques.roadshow@bbc.co.uk

It may be possible to arrange to look at the item in advance and organise transportation to the venue.

Series editor Simon Shaw says: "The team are all looking forward to visiting historic Bletchley Park. We regularly see between 1,500 and 2,000 visitors on the day. Despite the high turnout everyone will get to see an expert."

The doors open at 9.30 am and close at 4.30pm on the day

Get your brand closer to people's lives

No other medium is as close to people's hearts as Regional Press. Consumers consider it an integral part of their community. The effectiveness of regional press advertising in driving sales comes down to the simple fact that people prefer to do most of their spending close to where they live.
Consumers' Choice V, a national consumer survey by TNS Media, found that regional press advertising is the most frequently acted upon, with 61% of people responding to it†.
No wonder brands enjoy a closer relationship with consumers when advertised in this, the most trusted and effective medium of all.

COMPETITION ONE

Win a free party for ten children and two adults

CAFÉ ROUGE
RESTAURANT BAR CAFE

HAVE you got a children's party coming up?

Then make sure you enter our competiton as Cafe Rouge in The Hub is offering four lucky readers a party for ten children plus two adult meals, worth £100.

Bienvenue to a little pocket of France. Cafe Rouge has something for everyone from petit dejeuner, to a bistro style lunch with friends, afternoon tea and a la carte dining. All is served with French style and panache in a relaxed ambience suitable for just about any occasion.

Main courses have a rustic, hearty quality to them confit de canard meat that melts off the bone, accompanied by dauphinoise potatoes and green beans good honest food with a rich and satisfying blend of flavours.

Desserts include French classics such as creme brulee and tarte tatin warm caramelised apple tart served with vanilla ice cream.

Cafe Rouge would be quite at home on the Champs Elysee.

Guests relax over an after-work drink as you walk through to a large restaurant space studded with the red glow of candlelight.

The drinks menu is extensive and includes cidre Breton, citron presse, and a range of predominantly French wines sourced from smaller vineyards.

Staff are friendly and knowledgeable and recommend the daily specials alongside an enticing menu of French classics.

Cafe Rouge is keen to cater for younger diners too, with the enfants menu. Children are introduced to the delicious delights of French cuisine with an inspired menu created especially for them. Dishes include cheese omelette or salmon fishcake and for dessert all time kids' favourites like jelly and ice cream.

■ Until June 1, Cafe Rouge children dine for free. Check with restaurant for details.

HOW TO ENTER

For your chance to win one of these fantastic prizes all you have to do is answer our simple question on our website.

Log on to www.mk-news.co.uk and click on the competition on the homepage.

Then e-mail your answer to: competitions@mk-news.co.uk complete with your name, address and telephone number. First four drawn win. Editor's decision is final. Closing date noon, June 5.

COMPETITION TWO

360 Play's Twizzle and Twirl

360 Play free for a year

ENTER our fun competition for a chance to win an annual pass to 360 Play in Knowlhill.

Worth £90, the pass gives free entry for one child and an accompanying adult for a whole year and there are three of these fantastic prizes up for grabs.

To enter, send us your design for a 'best friend' for 360 Play's resident characters Twizzle and Twirl. You can draw, colour, paint or use your computer, it's up to you how you present your design. Don't forget to give Twizzle and Twirl's best friend a name.

Entries will be judged in three age groups - Up to 3 years, 4-7 years and 8 years plu s. The winner from each group will receive an annual pass to 360 Play.

For today's busy families it's great to know there's a one stop family centre where you can help children get the good start you want for them. A stimulating environment where climbing and cooking, dressing up and driving dodgems, painting and playing in a purpose-built pizza parlour can all be enjoyed under one roof.

HOW TO ENTER

For your chance to enjoy all of this free of charge for a year, tell us the names of 360 Play's two resident characters?.

Put your answer on the back of your design and send it to:

360 Play Competition, MK News, 1 Diamond Court, Fox Milne, Milton Keynes MK15 0DU.

Editor's decision is final. Deadline for entries June 3.

Classic neutrals with a splash of colour

We all need to have those classic staples in our wardrobe. That favourite pair of jeans with the 'go anywhere' tan handbag are a must. However, an accent of colour can create a totally new look. By matching your accessories, an outfit can be totally transformed. Alternatively, one carefully selected piece in a single vivid shade needs little or no accessorising. Be as reserved or as bold as you like when matching your colours this season as anything goes....

GARDENLIFE

Play wisty for me

ONE of the most frequently asked questions in the garden centre is 'How do we prune a wisteria?'.

Few sights are more impressive than that of a mature wisteria in full flower, the clusters of pea-like blooms are one of the highlights of the late spring and early summer garden.

To achieve this stunning display does require some attention.

Wisteria is best pruned hard twice a year to make sure of the best show of flowers.

Its sheer vigour – the new shoots can easily grow four metres (12ft) in a season –makes it difficult to keep under control and this is partly to blame for the wariness with which the inexperienced gardener approaches the task of pruning.

It has a reputation of being a difficult pruning job yet really is not that difficult at all. Once you have grasped a few basic principles it is quite straightforward

Wisteria flowers on shoots known as lateral spurs that have developed off the main stems of the previous year's growth. This is referred to as flowering on old wood.

The aim of pruning is to create the maximum number of spurs on a strong and regular framework of branches that will allow the pendulous blooms to hang gracefully without crowding those on the branches below

All varieties flower most profusely in a warm, sunny situation. It is at its best grown against a sunny wall facing south or west, where new shoots are helped to ripen early in the reflected warmth.

In this location, espalier training makes the most of the flowers' trailing habit.

Fix horizontal support wires to the wall or fence at 38 to 45 cm (15 to 18 ins) apart and at least 5 cm (2 ins) from the wall for the best effect.

If planting a new wisteria, plant it about 30cm away from the base of the wall (12 ins) and begin training by cutting back the leader immediately after planting. This will stimulate the production of side shoots from which, through successive summer and winter pruning and tying, you will establish a framework of well-spaced, lateral branches stubbed with flowering spurs to fill the desired area

POINTS TO REMEMBER

After planting stake and cut back to a healthy bud about 100 cm (3 ft) above ground level. Some wisteria plants are sold as large well established shrub some 180 cm (6 ft) high or more, it is not advisable to cut these back, but to make sure that all vertical growth is supported

2FIRST SUMMER PRUNING.

Tie in the vertical leader, then select two strong laterals and tie in at 45 degrees. Prune side shoots to about 15cm (6 ins) or three or four buds to begin formation of flowering spurs. Remove any shoots from the base of the plant

FIRST WINTER PRUNING.

Cut back leader to about 100cm (3 ft) above the laterals. Pull down laterals previously trained ay 45 degrees and tie in horizontally. Cut back by a third of their length.

SECOND SUMMER PRUNING

Tie in the leader and horizontal lateral as they grow, prune side shoots to three or four buds. Select the next pair of laterals and tie in at a 45 degree angle. Again remove any basal growth

SECOND WINTER PRUNING

Cut back the leader and tie in laterals as the previous winter pruning. Prune back laterals by about a third of their length to ripen the growth. Continue this sequence until the available space is covered

■ After several years growing the wisteria will be well established. Some thinning of lateral shoots may be required, this pruning should be carried out in July or immediately after flower

■ Remember the following simple rule of pruning an established wisteria: prune all the new lateral shoots back to four buds in July each year, then prune these four buds back to two buds the following February.

This method of pruning ensures that you will have two long racemes of flower rather than four short racemes of flowers the following May.

MILTON KEYNES COUNCIL

Have your say!

YOUR GUIDE TO VOTING
IN THE EUROPEAN ELECTIONS

The UK's European Election on 4 June is part of the biggest transnational elections ever. Make sure you have your say by voting to elect Members of the European Parliament (MEP) for the South East Region

Voting for a MEP

You have one vote in the European Parliamentary Elections. Each political party puts forward a list of candidates known as a regional list. You can vote for one of these lists.

The South East Region has 10 MEPs. The number of MEPs that are elected from each party depends on the share of votes each party receives. In the UK we vote on 4 June, while most of the European Union will vote on 7 June.

Why should I vote in European Parlimentary Elections – I already vote in the UK?

The European Parliament represents people living in the 27 member countries of the European Union and has powers covering a range of areas from animal rights to consumer issues and workers' rights.The European Parliament considers issues such as the adoption of non-discrimination laws.

By voting in the European Parliamentary Elections, you choose who influences your future and the daily life of close to 500 million fellow Europeans.

Around three quarters of new UK laws had their origins in the European Union.

MILTON KEYNES COUNCIL

Who is standing for election?

Fifteen parties have submitted lists for this election:

British National Party
Christian Party “Proclaiming Christ's Lordship”
Conservative Party
English Democrats
The Green Party
Jury Party
The Labour Party
Liberal Democrats
No2EU: Yes to Democracy
The Peace Party - Non-Violence, Justice, Environment
Pro Democracy: Libertas.eu
The Roman Party. Ave!
Socialist Labour Party
United Kingdom First
United Kingdom Independence Party

What were the results last time?

The last European Elections were held in 2004.
In Milton Keynes 58,888 people voted, and the votes for each party or individual candidate were as follows:

Party	Votes received
British National Party	3,066
Christian Peoples Alliance	317
Conservatives - Putting Britain First	15,393
English Democrats Party	953
Green Party	4,122
Labour Party Candidates	12,743
Liberal Democrats	8,322
Peace Party - Non-violence, Justice, Environment	419
Philip Rhodes	166
ProLife	116
Respect, The Unity Coalition (George Galloway)	480
Senior Citizens Party	1,905
UK Independence Party	1,063

Who are the MEPs for the South East Region?

Milton Keynes is part of the South East Region and our 10 MEPs for the Region since 2004 have been:

Conservative Party: Richard James Ashworth, Nirj Deva, James Elles, Daniel Hannan

Liberal Democrat Party: Sharon Bowles, Baroness Nicholson of Winterbourne

Labour Party: Peter Skinner

Green Party: Caroline Lucas

UK Independence Party: Nigel Farage

Independent: Ashley Mote

How to vote

You have already received your polling card at home. Don't worry if you haven't got your polling card or if you forget it on the day – you can still vote if your name is on the voter's list.

Polling stations will be open between 7am and 10pm on 4 June. At the polling station, go to the desk where the staff will check that your name is on the voters' list and give you your ballot paper. Choose which political party you wish to represent you, go into a polling booth on your own to place one cross in the appropriate box, then place your ballot paper in the ballot box.

If you are a postal voter, you should have received your postal ballot pack by now. Completed packs have to be received by 4 June so post it back straight away. If you have not received your postal vote pack or have lost or spoilt it then please phone 01908 254706 to request a replacement.

Where can I vote?

Your polling card has details of your local polling station. If you are uncertain, please visit our website at www.milton-keynes.gov.uk/elections. The website has details of the polling stations for Milton Keynes. You can also call 01908 254706 for help.

How we can help voters with disabilities?

Everyone will get an equal opportunity to vote. Our polling stations should all have access for wheelchairs and polling booths at wheelchair height. If you need a large print ballot paper or other help, please speak to the staff at the polling station. Staff are there to help, and voters with disabilities can also bring a friend or relative to provide appropriate support.

MILTON KEYNES COUNCIL

How and when will I know the result?

The votes will be counted and the results announced on the evening of Sunday 7 June. The allocation of the votes across the South East Region will be announced by the Regional Returning Office in Southampton. You can find details online at www.milton-keynes.gov.uk/elections from Monday 8 June.

Where can I find out more information?

Visit www.europarl.europa.eu/elections2009 or www.milton-keynes.gov.uk/elections to find out much more.

A scenic run for your money

GET your business fit and raise money to help children too.

The NSPCC Milton Keynes Half Marathon takes place on Sunday, July 26 and the 13.1 mile route takes in some of the city's scenic redways and the Grand Union Canal.

As sponsors of the team challenge, local solicitors Kimbells, are encouraging businesses to get a group of runners together to support a very worthy local cause - funds raised will support child protection services in Milton Keynes.

As well as providing the incentive to get fit, it's the ideal opportunity for some team bonding, with the overall personal achievement of completing a half marathon.

More than £260,000 has been raised since the first race in 1999, with money helping to fund services such as the NSPCC's Milton Keynes Schools Team which offers counselling and advice to children, young people and their carers on a range of child welfare matters.

Bury Lawn School pupils join Mayor Euan Henderson, MK Half Marathon founder Moira Staerk and head-teacher John Moreland flying the flag for the NSPCC

New Mayor Cllr Euan Henderson is backing the event, he said: "The half marathon is a fantastic opportunity for people to push themselves physically and raise valuable funds through sponsorship. The local project does amazing work with schoolchildren and offers them somewhere to turn if they have any problems.

Last year saw the 10th anniversary of the event, which has become a significant date in runners' diaries, attracting the likes of GB athlete Liz Yelling. Equally the half marathon attracts less serious runners looking for a challenge or as a goal for their fitness programme.

Sally Phipps, NSPCC community fundraising manager for Milton Keynes, said: "The event is now in its 11th year and it has become a key sporting event in Milton Keynes. Entrants say they love the warm and friendly atmosphere but also how well the race is organised so it attracts runners of all skills and abilities, as well as a lot of spectators."

Chip timing was introduced last year so runners can get an exact finish time as they cross the line.

Alison Foxton said: "Kimbells were established in Milton Keynes over 20 years ago and have long supported the community in which the firm has thrived. We are delighted to sponsor the team challenge this year as a way of supporting a charity which has true impact within the local area, benefiting local people."

The race starts at 10am from Bury Lawn School.

■ For more details and an entry pack for the team challenge visit:
www.mkhalfmarathon.org.uk
or contact
next.step@kimbells.com
To volunteer to helpon the day call Sally on 01908 328060 or e-mail sphipps@nspcc.org.uk

Charities set to benefit from low rent office space

THE landlord of an office development in Milton Keynes is offering outstanding deals to secure occupiers for the remainder of available space.

Lloyd's Court is situated on the intersection of Silbury Boulevard and Secklow Gate in the centre of Milton Keynes and the offers available to prospective tenants are likely to be of particular interest to the voluntary sector, where they will be able to secure flexible leases at very low rents.

Miranda Vale, office agent at Bidwells who are marketing the property said: "Our client is keen to fill voids in this building and help the local community by providing work space that charitable organisations may otherwise have to pay large sums of money to use."

There is up to approximately 10,000 sq ft of space available and the landlord will consider both charitable and non-charitable occupiers for the space.

For further information about this rare opportunity contact Miranda Vale at Bidwells on 01908 202190.

Stewart Bailey

Shaping the future of city business support

A MK businessman will be helping shape future of Milton Keynes business support

Stewart Bailey, MD of Virtual Viewing in Milton Keynes, has joined the board of ngage solutions.

ngage delivers the Government's Business Link service in Milton Keynes, Oxfordshire and Buckinghamshire as well many other funded programmes for businesses and communities.

Stewart founded Virtual Viewing in 1997. The global company provides high tech web and 3D modelling solutions including customers such F1 Racing and Phones4U and employs over forty staff across offices in Milton Keynes, Slovakia and Poland.

Virtual Viewing sponsors Milton Keynes' basketball team MK Lions and The Will Snap Band, a group of city-based business people who have raised over £30,000 for Willen Hospice and MK Snap.

He will join the current ngage board of eight directors, who represent many local businesses and have involvements with other local organisations throughout the MK, Oxfordshire and Bucks.

He said: "I'm priviledged to be invited to join the board and to be in a position to have direct input to such an important and far-reaching business as ngage. Delivering solutions that help businesses survive and even grow in the current economic climate is a tough challenge but one that ngage has proved successful at time and time again.

Bringing my skills and experience to the board,

I hope will see the further integration of IT and a transparent voice of a typical SME."

DAWN CARDINGTON

LEADING ENGINEER

Dawn Meats is a European leader in food processing and supplies meat products to a wide range of customers from our production sites in the UK.

Dawn Cardington processes beef in our abattoir and boning hall and we are looking to appoint a Leading Engineer as part of the site management team. You should have both mechanical and electrical skills and ideally knowledge of refrigeration and effluent plants. Working in a fast moving environment, you should have good organisational skills, be able to work with people at all levels, and have a flexible approach to work.

This position would especially suit a 'hands on' Engineer looking for a first role in management.

Please apply by e-mail with full cv and salary details to: john.sharrocks@uk.dawnmeats.com

To find out more about us visit our website:www.dawnmeats.com

No agencies please.

Due to continued growth we require ethical and well motivated

It's a working together, nothing's impossible, ideas count kind of role

Services Manager

Shefford, Bedfordshire
Starting salary £35,564 rising to £36,604 after probation, plus car allowance of £1,500 and benefits

HFT is full of creative and resourceful ideas that make it possible for people with learning disabilities to live life on their terms. All our ideas are as individual as the people who use our services because no two people are the same. To us, it's all about working together with the people we support to help get them the life they want.

It's that kind of innovative approach you'll be taking across the Shefford and Biggleswade area. You'll manage a range of services, registered homes supported living services and a resource centre, and develop them in ways that give people more independence and choice over the work, education and leisure opportunities open to them.

Ideas and enthusiasm are all important but we'll also expect you to have proven experience in the management and support of similar services. A full driving licence and use of a car is also essential. In return, we offer great support for career development and rewards including a contributory pension.

For an application pack please telephone our 24 hour recruitment line on 0117 9061721 or email jobs@hft.org.uk Alternatively you can apply online at www.hft.org.uk

Closing date: 5th June 2009.

Successful applicants will be required to undertake an enhanced disclosure check and POVA check through the Criminal Records Bureau. However a criminal record may not necessarily bar you from employment. HFT is committed to equal opportunities and welcomes applications from appropriately qualified people from all sections of the community.

Public Notices

Would you like to be part of a team advising the Council on the level of allowances paid to councillors?

The 1989 Local Government and Housing Act, as amended by the Local Government Act 2000, requires councils to have in place a scheme of allowances payable to their elected councillors. Councils are also required to set up Independent Remuneration Panels to make recommendations about:

- the level of basic allowances for all councillors;
- the level of special responsibility allowances;
- to whom the allowances should be paid;
- dependents' carers' allowance;
- travel and subsistence allowances, and
- co-optees'; allowances.

The Council now needs to set up a Panel for 2009 so that any recommendations on allowances can be implemented from April 2010. The Council is therefore looking for members of the public, and representatives of the business community, voluntary sector and academia with an interest in the issue of councillors' allowances to serve on the Panel.

Information about the work of Independent Remuneration Panels and a person specification for panel members is available from Elizabeth Richardson. Please telephone (01908) 252629 or e-mail: Elizabeth.Richardson@milton-keynes.gov.uk to request a copy.

If you are interested in being a member of the Panel, or you have any further questions, please contact John Moffoot, Head of Democratic Services either by e-mail: John.Moffoot@milton-keynes.gov.uk or by phone on 01908 252314.

The closing date for applications is 30 June 2009.

Juniors steal show at Bletchley

BLETCHLEY Amateur Boxing Club held its first show of the year at Bletchley Leisure Centre on Sunday.

The evening saw victories for local juniors Peter Rouke (in red, above) against Sandy's Hayden Wall and Steven Corcoran against Fulnourne and District's Adam Sartini.

Other Bletchley boxers did not fare so well but it was still was a great success for the club that caters for all ages ranging from ten-years-old and upwards, that was formed in 2006.

The club has around 60 boys and 40 adults on its books under the supervision of head coach Kevin McCarthy.

Morrants Four Counties DIVISION ONE

NEW Bradwell moved eight points clear at the top of the table following a 27 run win against North Crawley.

Bradwell went in to bat first and with Zaheer Ahmed's 60 and Teemor Alam's 45 they looked to be on for a high total.

But the bowling of Steve Sharpe (5-37) and Richard Bryce (3-31) limited them to 152 all out.

The response from North Crawley failed to trouble Bradwell with Naseem Malik taking 5-15 to dismiss them for 125 runs.

Eaton Bray stayed in second place with a five wicket win over Cublington.

Cublington were bowled out for 171 their top scorer was A Goldberg with 52, it was a target that Eaton Bray, despite a wobble of losing five wickets, were able to beat.

Milton Keynes City took 13 points from their draw with Elstow.

A total of 202-9 was set by Elstow, who had D Riddle (73), Dan Wisson (40) and P Johnson (38) all contributing with the bat.

S Robson did his best to upset the City order by claiming 3-40, but Chris Timms' 59 and D Heady's 33 saw them through to a draw.

Newport Pagnell (219-8) also drew with their hosts Aspley Guise (238-5).

Guise set a tough total thanks to some strong batting from David Quick (76) and Simon Smithers (44). John Rowbotham also posted a helpful 43 to end their innings on 238-5.

And Newport, despite losing eight wickets, managed to hang on in their innings to take 12 points.

Old Bradwell (228-8) shared the honours with Winslow Town (167-7).

A 58 from Poulter, and Manoj Gosai's unbeaten 41 helped Bradwell on their way to a healthy total.

But they could not dismiss Winslow, which meant the points were shared.

DIVISION TWO

MILTON Keynes thrashed Aston Clinton by ten wickets to move clear in seventh place.

Craig Gentleman finished with stunning figures of 4-8, and Simon Booth 4-21, as MK dismissed Clinton for just 41 runs. MK eased to victory without losing a wicket.

Olney Town (116) lost to Caddington (119) by three runs in a nail-biting finish.

Stuart Keeping took 3-7 for Olney. but that was bettered by Abdul Hamed who claimed 5-8 to helped Caddington to victory.

Soulbury (189-7) lost to Biddenham (191-2) by eight wickets. An impressive display with the bat from Dave Morrish (92 not out) was key to Biddenham's win.

Stewkley (149) lost to Studham (151-2) by eight wickets.

Cherwell League DIVISION ONE

BLETCHLEY Town shared the spoils with Dinton at Manor Fields.

Dinton's innings started with a partnership of 54 inside nine overs, dominated by ex Leicestershire batsman Mike Sutliff.

Dinton reached 97-2 in the 20th over when Sutliff (60) was adjudged LBW to give Graham Simpson his second wicket. And their impressive run rate continued down the order with Mark Ludlow adding a quick 24 from 13 balls until Simpson (3-98) claimed his wicket and at 250-7, after 52 overs Dinton declared.

Town's reply stuttered at 24-1 from 11 overs, which soon became 66-3 after 19 overs.

A fourth wicket partnership of 49 between James Sprittles and Simpson steadied the ship until Morgan had Simpson LBW. Immediately, Sprittles followed for 26 and Town had around 10 overs left to try and get a draw and as many points as possible out of the game.

The total was on 133 when two more wickets fell to leave Town seven down until Mark Grass (28no) played an entertaining cameo to see Town to safety on 172-8.

Northants Premier League

STONY Stratford had to settle for a winning draw at home to Burton Latimer.

An impressive innings from Stony skipper Dion Ebrahim saw him reach 109 from 147 ball before falling LBW to Scott Sanders.

Stony reached 248-9 from their 45 overs.

Ebrahim's good fortunes continued with the ball (2-44) and Steve Bellow took 3-51 but they were unable to dismiss their guests.

Stony are now tenth in the table.

Academy kids can't wait for the new season to kick-off

AS most MK Dons players are sat on a beach soaking up the sun's rays, there are two desperate to kick a football again and counting down the days until pre-season starts.

David King and Daniel Powell have only just finished their season in the academy but both admit they would happily begin the 2009/10 season now.

The reason being King has just been awarded his first professional contract with the club, while Powell agreed terms for his earlier in the season.

It was a dream come true for 18-year-old King, who was once released by the Dons only to return in 2006, especially as his season as academy captain was marred by a bad ankle break which ruled him out for four months.

The injury cost King valuable playing time, and he feared it may have cost him his contract too.

Speaking exclusively to MK NEWS, he said: "When I came back from the break I was mistiming passes, late challenges, just little things that made me think 'I can't do this', but then I had a good chat with Mike, sorted my head out and it all turned out the way I wanted it to."

A utility player who is equally comfortable in the centre of midfield, at right-back or in central defence, is certainly an asset to the Dons but King is aware there is plenty of competition for places in the League One squad.

He said: "I think I've got a big task ahead of me to try and impress during pre-season. If I do stay at the club, and don't go out on loan, I could play in the friendly games and I would have to impress."

Age isn't something that is taken into account by manager Roberto Di Matteo, already he has shown plenty of faith in the younger members in Mike Dove's academy.

One of the players who has caught Di Matteo's eye is Powell, who made seven appearances from the bench last season, his debut at Hartlepool saw him become the youngest ever goalscorer for the club.

And the 18-year-old is targeting a place in the starting line-up as his goal for next season, he said: "It would have been nice to have played a bit more but I'm still learning a lot from the boys. It's the Gaffer's choice how he wants to pick the team, I'm just glad I've been a part of it.

"I'd love to start a game next year, but for now I just have to keep working hard and see what happens."

Meanwhile, Daniel Delderfield and Kurt Fox have left the MK Dons academy.

■ DONS have confirmed a pre-season friendly trip to Windsor & Eton on Saturday, July 18. Kick-off 3pm.

Red Bull in hit and miss affair

BY SIMONE CORGAN
simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

FOUR points from the Monaco Grand Prix did not represent the hard work put in by Red Bull Racing, according to team principal Christian Horner.

The Tilbrook-based team had mixed fortunes on the streets of Monte Carlo, Mark Webber kept up his points scoring run with a fifth place but Sebastian Vettel crashed out early in the race.

All round it was a hit and miss weekend for Red Bull which started with reliability issues in practice, that stopped Vettel from completing maximum laps, and finished with the German driver slamming into a barrier.

But Webber capitalised on his team mate's error moving up from eighth in the pack to fifth, on a track that notoriously limits drivers' chances of building on their starting place.

Aussie driver Webber, who took his points tally to 19.5 for the season, said: "We're pretty happy with fifth to be honest, to get a few points after a challenging qualifying session is pretty good.

"There were a few more people that came in on the act this weekend, so for us to still come away with a few points is good for us in the constructors' championship. The guys worked like hell this weekend to fit a lot of new parts so it was important for us to get some points. At other venues we'll be stronger again."

Vettel, starting in fourth after a good qualification session, was left to rue a weekend without points as Brawn GP's Jenson Button and Rubens Barrichello extended their lead in first and second place respectively in the driver's championship.

Mark Webber on his way to a points postition and fifth place in Monaco

Another one-two for the Brawn duo saw Button notch up his 51st point of the season, more than double that of Vettel, 23.

The 21-year-old racer started the Grand Prix on super soft tyres, a gamble which failed to pay off as a backlog of cars trailed behind him. On the 11th lap Vettel could no longer withstand the pressure from Felipe Massa and was forced to pit with his tyres in pieces.

After a quick change Vettel was back on the track but his race lasted just six laps more when a driving error saw him slam into the barrier at Sainte Devote.

A bitterly disappointed Vettel said: "Not much to tell – I was braking maybe a little bit too late, locked the rears, lost the car and hit the wall.

"Of course we lost a lot of time already in the first stint, being on the soft tyres. We were confident that they would work for the first short stint, but they didn't.

"It's disappointing, but sometimes this happens. In Monaco, you make a little mistake and you pay the price."

Horner added: "All the guys in the team have put in exceptional hours this weekend and four points for their efforts isn't really a just reward."

The Red Bull cars were operating with a double diffuser for the first time this season, and they are set to continue with them for the Turkish Grand Prix in two weeks time.
